Biographies of Keynote Speakers

Professor David GURR is a Professor in Educational Leadership within the Melbourne Graduate School of Education at the University of Melbourne. David has been Vice-president of the Australian Council for Educational Leaders, past editor of the ACEL publications Hot Topics, Monograph and Leading and Managing, and was awarded the ACEL Gold Medal in 2014. David is currently on the Executive of the Commonwealth Council for Educational Administration and Management and is the Editor of their academic journal, International Studies in Educational Administration. David has a 25-year history working in Hong Kong, having conducted and advised on school reviews, taught masters subjects, and he is currently a research fellow of the Asia Pacific Centre for Leadership and Change, and member of the advisory board for the International Executive Master of Arts in Educational Leadership and Change, both at the Education University of Hong Kong.

A prolific writer and conference presenter on school leadership matters with nearly 200 publications and more than 200 conference presentations, David's research and writing explores many aspects of educational leadership, with a particular focus on successful school leadership, middle leaders. He is a founding member of two major international educational leadership projects: The International Successful School Principalship Project and International School Leadership Development Network.

Dr. Adrian CHENG is a global business leader, arts patron and philanthropist based in Hong Kong.

As CEO of New World Development Company Limited (NWD), Dr. Cheng oversees the strategy and operations of NWD and its US$79.2 billion in assets. He has transformed a 50-year-old business into a forward-looking and dynamic ecosystem of property development, infrastructure, healthcare, education, retail, hospitality projects and more. His vision to weave sustainability, culture, innovation and community enhancement into business is embodied in iconic landmark projects, a majority of which are under the K11 brand, across Mainland China and Hong Kong.

For his dedication to Creating Shared Value - to linking business success and social progress, Dr. Cheng won the Shared Value Champion Award in 2020, the first CEO in Asia to ever receive this honour. Through CTF Education Group (CTFEG), he is empowering the next generation to be future ready. CTFEG runs K-12 schools which serve over 10,000 children and young people.

Through his charity WEMP, Dr. Cheng has commissioned research by Cambridge University, with field work done collaboratively with Hong Kong educators, into children's psychology, social and cognitive skills, wellbeing and mental health in Hong Kong. The research will be done over the course of three years, and the outcome, analysis and recommendations will be shared across the world.

As a patron of the arts, Dr. Cheng is the Founder of the K11 Art Foundation. He is a Trustee of the Royal Academy of Arts in London and sits on the Visiting Committee of the Museum of Modern Art in New York and the International Circle of the Centre Pompidou in Paris, among other similar committees in Hong Kong and elsewhere.

Dr. Cheng serves on the Dean's Council of the Harvard Kennedy School, and the Asia Advisory Board of the Ivey Business School, among other academic advisory boards.

Dr. Cheng is a graduate of Harvard University. He is the youngest person in Hong Kong history to receive the honour of Officer in the Order of Arts and Letters by the French Government (2017). He has also been awarded the honour of Officer of the French National Order of Merit (2021). Fortune Magazine named Dr. Cheng a "40 Under 40" global business force, and the World Economic Forum listed him as a "Young Global Leader" in 2012. Dr. Cheng is an alumnus of St. Paul's Co-educational College in HK.
